OLIVE OIL.

Under the Pure Food Law all oil made from olives is pure olive oil, yet there is an unchallenged difference in olive oil as there is in butter.
Cheap olive oil is made from olives that through cause of decay, worms or stomach fall to the ground. Sound, healthy olives stay on the tree until ripe, like the oil pressed without heat.
This is virgin olive oil. The second pressing is obtained with steam and hot water, which is known as the table oil. The rich flavor and medicinal properties are found only in the virgin oil which is of a greenish-yellow color. It is very nutritious. Used in nervous diseases is a mild laxative;
has a great reputation as a remedy for stones in the bladder, and is a skin food and complexion beautifier through its action on the liver. The supply of this virgin oil is always limited. It is quickly bought up for medicinal purposes and found only in drug stores.
Mr. Fleming, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, personally tests our olive oil. You are therefore positive of obtaining the true virgin oil imported direct from Southern France. We sell it at 40c one-half pint, 75c a full pint bottle. Get it at our store. The Hudson Drug Co., Milwaukee & River

YEAR MUST ELAPSE BEFORE STREET RY. CAN BE PURCHASED

Reconstruction Will Necessarily Be Delayed Until That Time—Judgment in Favor of Plaintiff.
$155,700.
Judgment was entered today in favor of the Finance Company of Pennsylvania, plaintiff, against the Janesville Street Railway company, defendant, in the action to foreclose the mortgage or trust deed of which the plaintiff was trustee.
Thos. S. Nolan, the attorney for the plaintiff, was the only witness sworn.
He produced seventy-five bonds, representing $1,000 each, with interest at six per cent, secured by trust deed or mortgage dated April 1, 1902. No interest had been paid on the indebtedness. The principal sum due was determined to be $75,000; the interest thereon, $81,049.25. An attorney fee of $500 was allowed. The taxable costs amounted to $155,700, making a total of $156,700.31, which is the largest judgment ever entered in the circuit court of this county.
The sale of the property cannot be made until one year from this date.
Messrs. Lennon and Murphy, the receivers, will probably make such repairs and improvements as may be necessary to keep the railway running, but any new construction until the property can be sold on foreclosure sale.

NARROWLY ESCAPED LOSING HIS SIGHT

Early Moody of Milton Jct., Seriously Injured While Blasting Stumps.
Earl Moody of Milton Jct., whose eyesight was threatened by an injury received while blasting stumps last Friday, is reported to be doing nicely and, according to Dr. James P. Thorne, who is treating him, will,
if no unforeseen complications set in,
retain his sight.
Moody, who taught a district school near Evansville, was engaged in clearing a piece of land of stumps, and after placing a dynamite cap, neglected to move far enough away.
When the cap exploded, a small piece lodged in his left eye, penetrating the layers and even allowing some of the vitreous humor to escape. The cut also caused a severe hemorrhage.
Moody was immediately hurried to this city and placed under the care of Dr. Thorne, who removed the portion of the cap and dressed the injury.
It was thought at first that Moody's eyesight could not be saved but his progress has been so encouraging during the past few days that hopes are entertained that the first impression will prove false.

INJURED BRAKEMAN IS RESTING EASILY

Charles Bates, Who Was Hurt Saturday Night, Reported to Be Recovering Rapidly.
Charles Bates, the North-Western brakeman who was injured Saturday night and who has been in the hospital since, is reported to be recovering from his injuries rapidly and all fears of internal injuries have been dispelled.
Bates, who came up from Chicago
on train number 581 Saturday evening about half past ten o'clock, fell from the top of a box car while the train was entering the south limits of the new yards and fractured several ribs in addition to receiving a bad shakedown.
That he was not ground to pieces under the train is considered a miracle as he fell between the cars but luckily rolled outside the rails. His injuries were at first considered to be serious and he was hurried to the hospital but it is found that beyond the shock incident to the fall and the broken ribs he was unhurt.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST THE SMALL BOY'S PLAY

Are Being Lodged With the Officers
—Baseball Games in Parks Must Cease.
Every police officer was once a small boy, himself, and consequently it is no pleasant duty to break up the harmless little baseball games that are in progress from time to time in the public parks and other forbidden places. But when Mr.
Stall Citizen complains against such practices, as he has been doing in increasing numbers of late, it is necessary for the authorities to act and the boys who persist in encroaching upon the streets and show places will have to be severely dealt with.
Janesville provides no adequate playgrounds for the children and they have to find most of their fun.

OBITUARY.

Michael Conley.
Michael Conley, aged thirty-five years, a former resident of Janesville, died yesterday in Chicago. The remains were brought here last night and taken to the home of his brother, James H. Conley, 413 South High street. Michael Conley was born and lived in this city until a few years ago when he went to Chicago to make his home. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and little daughter, a mother, two brothers, James and Thomas; three sisters, Mrs. J. H. Gil-dy, Mrs. J. M. Thompson of Milwa-waukee, Minn., and Mrs. J. P. Doherty of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at nine o'clock from St. Patrick's church.
Erwin Wells.
The funeral of Erwin Wells will be held tomorrow morning at ten o'clock from Otterbein church, Rev. York officiating. Interment in Mt. Pleasant.
Coll Case Dismissed. On motion of the prosecution the case of the State vs. LaCount Coll was dismissed in circuit court this morning, one of the most important of the witnesses having left the state and present whereabouts being unknown. Coll was charged with taking improper liberty with a child.

ADVANCE HOPE FOR STRIKE SETTLEMENT

Manufacturers Proceed With Plans
For Building in Hope That Threatened Strike Will Be Settled.
Contingent building operations in the city, including the big brick warehouse of the Janesville Machine company, and the new factories of the Willard-Harlow and the Rock River Machine Companies, will not be affected by the present dispute between the unions and contractors of the city according to reports.
Should the trouble be prolonged,
however, trouble will undoubtedly ensue, but it is thought that the question will be settled satisfactorily before the work on the new buildings has progressed far enough to enable the companies to put the unions to work.
Present indications point to a settlement on the basis of an eight-hour day at eight-hour wages. Instead of nine-hour wages as have been demanded.
In the belief that the trouble will be settled, both the Janesville Machine Company and the Willard-Harlow company are proceeding with their preliminary work and have refused to allow the rumors of a strike to interfere with their plans.
Harness Makers Still Out.
There has been no change in the strike situation at the Russell-Sehlin factory. The union harness makers are still out and the company is still operating only the job department.

MANSFIELD WON THE MINE STOCK ACTION

Brought to recover the Face Value of Shares for Which H. S. Bicknell
Wouldn't Pay.
Judge Grimes has found for the plaintiff in the case of F. S. Mansfield of Johnson Creek vs. H. S. Bicknell
of this city, an issue arising out of the sale of some mining stock which the defendant, it was alleged, had agreed to purchase at a certain price and later, when the bottom fell out of the market, refused to take. The action was started several years ago and when the plaintiff was in unimpaired court the defendant appealed to the higher tribunal. All of the negotiations were conducted by correspondence but the court held that these constituted a contract. It also held that at the time of the breach of the contract the stock had practically no market value and that the defendant was therefore liable for the whole face value, amounting to over $200. It appears that sometime therefore the same stock had been sold to Mr. Bicknell to Mr. Mansfield. Attorney Fisher and Oostved represented the plaintiff and C. J. Hendriks was counsel for the defendant.

BOXERS READY FOR THE BOUTS TONIGHT

Those Who Will Participate in Sparring Exhibition This Evening
Arrive in the City.
All of the boxers who are to appear at the rink this evening have arrived in the city and those who are to meet in the main bouts weighed in this afternoon. Billy Moorehead of Milwaukee, who is to meet Nels Larson in the win-up was accompanied by Frank Mulcaire, the millionaire newsboy of Milwaukee and Freddie Andrews who will hook up with Earl Denning. Denning and Al Hammer of Chicago, who are under Harry Gilmore's wing, also arrived in time to weigh in at three o'clock.
Jack Ryan of Fond du Lac, who will be Hammer's opponent, weighed in well under the regulated notch, 133 pounds and appears to be in good condition. Ryan, who has done his training here, has made an excellent impression and will have a big delegation pulling for him. As has been the rule in the past, the bouts this evening will be boxing exhibitions pure and simple with no decisions rendered.

COUNCIL WILL PROBABLY MEET FRIDAY EVENING

To Canvass the Election Returns—One More Regular Meeting for the Old Organization.
The common council will probably be summoned to a special session Friday evening to canvass the election returns. The present organization of the city fathers will hold one more regular meeting and that next Monday evening. About a week thence a special meeting for the organization of the new council, appointment of standing committees, and election of various officers will probably be called. The newly elected aldermen, with the exception of those named to fill vacancies, will not take their seats until that time.

NEW KIND OF CHURN

Barrel Mounted in Frame Revolves Rapidly by Gearing.

It used to be, and not so long ago, that if the farmer's wife wanted to make butter or churn anything, she put the stuff in a bucket-shaped vessel and stirred it rapidly with a handle. Among the newer kinds of churns one of the best is that designed by a Canadian and shown in the illustration. First there is a light but strong framework mounted on rollers. Midway up this frame a barrel is swung on a shaft which is operated by a driving gear. The driving gear is worked by turning a handle. A hook in the bottom of the barrel holds it stationary while the top is being opened and it is being filled. Then the top is fastened on tight, the hook released and the handle turned. By means of the gearing the barrel is spun around rapidly, and in a few minutes the churning is done better than it could have been done in the old days after long and weary work.

Circulation of Wealth.
It is best for the nation as a whole that wealth shall be allowed to pass freely from the rich to the poor, unimpeded by legislation.—Andrew Carnegie.

Virtue of Keeping Clean.
It might be too much to say that there is nothing so easy as to keep clean, since the subjugation of dirt does mean labor. But it is not too much to say that there is nothing so possible as to keep clean. Water is plenty, soap is not prohibitive in price, and no better use can be made of labor than to make things tidy and pure and undeliled.—Kansas City Star.

EDDY FAY
EDDY FAY, ALIAS FREDERICK CUNNINGHAM OF CHICAGO.
King of Post Office Robbers.

A few of the larger robberies charged against Fay, and the amounts stolen are:
Chicago postoffice, 1901, $75,000.
Superior, Wis., postoffice, 1902, $15,000.
Monticello bank, Monticello, Wis., 1902, $15,000.
Peoria, Ill., postoffice, 1903, $30,000.
Peoria National bank, Peoria, Ill., 1904, $75,000.
Richmond, Va., postoffice, 1910, $85,000.
Los Angeles, Cal., Japanese-American bank, 1905, $38,000.
San Diego, Cal., postoffice, 1906, $14,738.
Pasadena, Cal., postoffice, 1907, $13,000.

New York, N. Y.—Evidence is fast accumulating against Eddy Fay, who was captured in connection with the $25,000 postoffice heist at Richmond. It has been discovered that he is the man wanted in no less than nine cities for robberies, aggregating a total of over $1,000,000.

Guarded by 50 detectives this so-called "king of postoffice robbers" was locked up in the Tombs prison with Richard Harris, alias Frank Chester, bank and jewelry store burglar.

The two robbers were captured after a desperate battle with detectives. In their possession was found a trunk containing $27,000 in stamps and $3,000 in cash. Fay fought the officers for two hours when he faced the capture for the identification bureau, twisting his face out of shape and rolling on the floor. Efforts to take his Bertillon measurements were futile.

Detectives in New York last night found two more trunks and a suitcase belonging to the robbers, from which they recovered $25,000 in stamps.

In one way what detectives say is the most elaborate and highly finished set of burglary tools they have ever seen. Each tool was in a separate case of Russian leather. Even the rougher blades were wrapped in its own paper, and the drills were of the latest modern "high speed" tool steel. With them were a set of "screw picks," some of which were 18 inches long and six were of skeleton key.

Another set, not so finished, was seized last night.

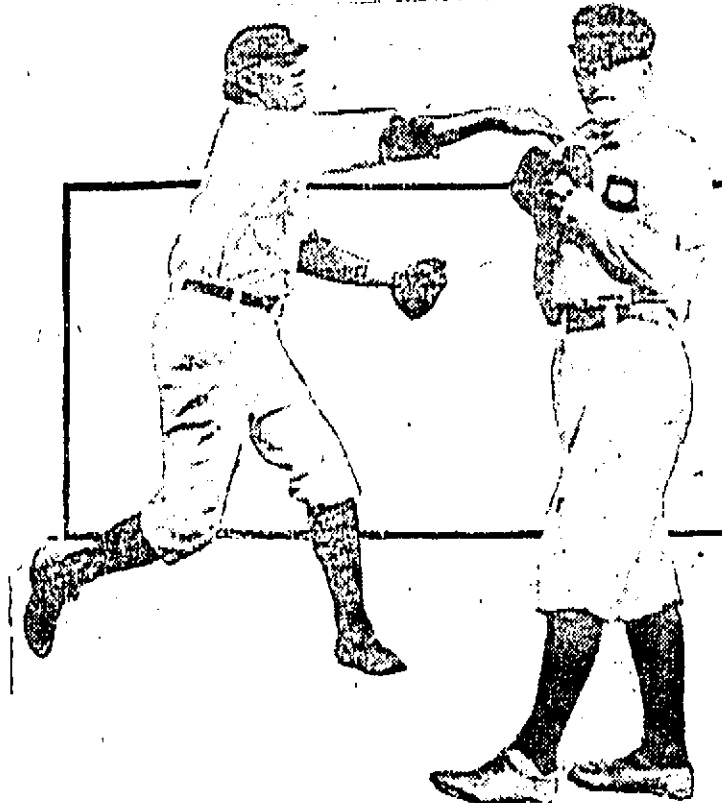

More interesting yet was a manuscript showing that the compiler had in mind a wholesale raid on northern and western banks. Hundreds of names were listed, and with them appeared the names and addresses of the treasurers, cashiers and janitors and their habits and homes.

There was a particularly long list about a bank at Saratoga, Tenn. There is still another trunk to be found.

Fifty picked Deputy United States Marshal, accompanied the prison van in which the two prisoners were taken for arraignment before a federal commissioner. Neither man had counsel in court, and an adjournment of the hearing was taken until next Wednesday on the petition of the government. Fay was fixed at $20,000 each and, failing to give this, both men were locked up.

For six years police in all parts of the world have searched for Eddy Fay. An accumulative reward of $50,000 has been offered for his capture.

Now, here's a fact, in fact of course. Yet not a cause for laughter. Who shows the rag through all this life. Will surely smoke hereafter.

PITCHERS WHO HAVE MADE GOOD WITH CONNIE MACK AT THE SPRING CAMP AND HAVE CINCHED THEIR POSITIONS.

Southern Phoebe—The two Grand pitchers Moore and McQuillen, have been doing some fast work for the Philadelphia National league team. Those who have seen them working say they have checked their belts with Connie Mack. Earle Moore, whose home is in Cleveland, Ohio, was one of the stars picked from Jersey City. Moore was the Phillies' winning pitcher last year and he looked to repeat his standing this season. He is in grand shape, weighing 195 pounds. George McQuillen, Moore's co-worker on the mound and particular chum on the road also came to the Phillies from the Jersey club. He weighs about 180 pounds and is but 24 years old.

ture of the murderer. He didn't have an enemy in the world and I don't believe that he committed suicide. I don't see any motive for either murder or suicide. It is an awful mystery to me."

So the mystery continues in spite of every effort on the part of the police. The latest development is a hope will be found through the testimony of Ann Anderson, a former maid in the home who left the position some months ago. It is hoped that important threads of evidence having to do with circumstances leading up to the poisoning can be more tightly drawn through her.

MATERIAL WITNESS IN THE MOODY MURDER CASE.
Peter Peterson, confidential agent of the murderer's man and principal witness.

Chicago, Ill.—The police based strong hopes of clearing the mystery surrounding the murder of Alexander J. Moody, wealthy pig manufacturer, who died from arsenic poisoning February 20, in Peter Peterson. Peterson held a unique position in the Moody household. He was confidential agent of the murdered man as well as coachman, and it has since developed that he was also Moody's banker for limited loans. At the time of his death Alexander Moody, though rated as a wealthy man, was found to possess but few tangible assets. It is known that though he had an income of from $20,000 to $15,000 a year he lived very simply. This simple manner of living and his short financial resources at the time of his death have led to a number of theories being advanced among them that of blackmail. Peterson came to Chicago and appeared before the state's attorney in the coroner's office.

For an hour and a half Peterson answered a stream of questions hurled at him by each official. He was forced to repeat in detail many times the story of his connection with the Moody family, his relations to Mrs. Moody, and his actions during the three days preceding Moody's death.

At noon he came out of the private office of the coroner, smiling and composed, while perspiration stood on the brow of each official. After lunch the outlying was resumed. Prof. Walter B. Haines of Rush Medical college confronted him with the details of his examination of the fatal drink which caused Moody's death.

Coroner's Physician H. G. Reinhardt told in the presence of Peterson of the examination of Moody's body and the startling quantities of arsenic found. Harry Moody, son of the deceased, and his uncle, Harry Moody, aided in the examination.

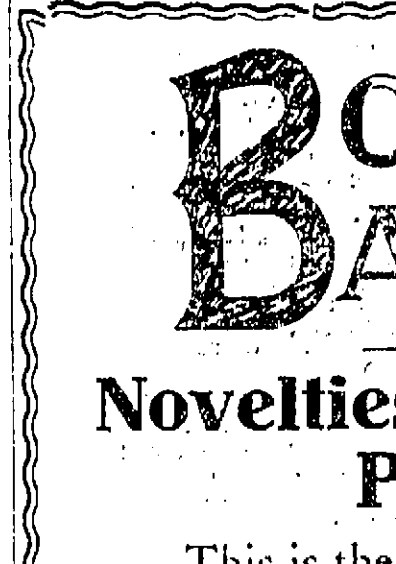

Through it all Peterson was the most composed man in the conference. At 5 o'clock in the afternoon Attorney James L. Ryan and Edward Maher, who represent Mrs. Moody, and had been waiting more than an hour for Peterson, demanded that they be admitted to see him. Peterson was released and went with the attorneys.

It is the most baffling thing I have ever met," declared the coroner when Peterson had gone. "Regardless of his guilt or innocence, he is one of the cleverest men I ever questioned. He has beaten us at every turn. I questioned him in every imaginable way and appealed to his sympathies. Once tears came into his eyes and I told of the death scene."

Moody was the best man God ever made," he sobbed. "I do not know who killed him, but I am innocent. I will do all in my power to aid in the capture of the murderer. He didn't have an enemy in the world and I don't believe that he committed suicide. I don't see any motive for either murder or suicide. It is an awful mystery to me."

So the mystery continues in spite of every effort on the part of the police. The latest development is a hope will be found through the testimony of Ann Anderson, a former maid in the home who left the position some months ago. It is hoped that important threads of evidence having to do with circumstances leading up to the poisoning can be more tightly drawn through her.

Peter Peterson, confidential agent of the murderer's man and principal witness.

Chicago, Ill.—The police based strong hopes of clearing the mystery surrounding the murder of Alexander J. Moody, wealthy pig manufacturer, who died from arsenic poisoning February 20, in Peter Peterson. Peterson held a unique position in the Moody household. He was confidential agent of the murdered man as well as coachman, and it has since developed that he was also Moody's banker for limited loans. BORT BAILEY & CO. THE CASH STORE

Novelties in Wash Goods for Present Wear

This is the store that pays cash for its merchandise and is ever able to pick up beautiful novelties as fast as they are shown to the trade. Orders are not placed in advance of season so far that the newest creations are not being shown. We mention some of the good things in Wash Goods now displayed at this store.

Pervanco Cloth, 30c yd.

A rough weave mercerized material, 27 inches wide. A firm weave wash goods, looks very much like rough weave silk and is an ideal material for summer dresses. Colors: New blues, shades of brown, light and medium tan, pink, rose shades, lavender, greens, grays, cream white, white and black; 30¢ yard.

New Mercerized Poplins, 35c yd.

27 in. wide, a fine even weave, medium weight and rich luster. Colors are practically the same as in the Pervanco cloth.

GINGHAMS

are especially exquisite this year. New patterns and new qualities of charm and beauty are introduced. We have made particularly favorable purchases for cash and can show a especially desirable line of this popular material.

A striking example of our ability to sell for less FOR CASH may be noted in our beautiful Toile Do Nord and Touraine Gingham of superior quality and rich patterns, at 12¢ a yard.

There is great variety, offering some of the prettiest patterns we have ever seen. Be sure to see our new gingham. We do not believe you will find prettier showings anywhere.

Our assortment of ARGYLE and FRENCH GINGHAMS offer a wealth and variety of novel patterns at 25¢ a yard.

We are also showing an unusual range of patterns in the rich new SATIN STRIPE GINGHAMS (32 inches wide) at 35¢ a yard.

Besides these new arrivals we have more gingham that are arriving most every day now. The rare values in these gingham are emphasized by the prices quoted on goods of such high quality and choice selection.

Included are the Parkhill Plain gingham, an American gingham with a fineness of weave equal to 25¢ imported gingham. Shown in all staple colors, at, per yd. 15¢.

New showings in Manchester Chambrays, 12½¢ yd.

Manchester Chambrays, the newest creations at 12½¢ yd.

New Galatea Cloths at 18¢ yd.

New Printed Batiste at 15¢ yd.

New shipment of Nurses stripe Seersucker at 12½¢ yd.

200 new pieces of American Prints in Silver grays, Calcutta Blues, Indigo Blues, shirtings and mountings.

Are you practicing economy on a definite plan? Put your buying on a CASH BASIS and watch the buying power of your income increase.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY.

Residents of the inland states do not favor the proposed ship subsidy measure. Some, perhaps, through ignorance of results that might be obtained, others because it does not appeal to them as a necessity. One of the greatest arguments brought forth by the friends of the proposed law is the South American trade which the United States is now losing. However, if we can not obtain this trade by means of "ocean trade" there is still the question of an "All-American" railroad left for consideration.

James G. Blaine's idea of such a Pan-American railroad did not work out as he hoped it might in his time.
It has not worked out in our time.
The great project has taken its own form and its own course. It was not to be brought about by the united efforts of the governments of these continents, but was destined to be the fruit of independent enterprise and of a great striving with small means against almost countless obstacles.
But however worked out, it has been going forward through all these years, until we now learn that there is a possibility that railroad connection between the Hudson's bay district of the Dominion and the southern part of Chile will be completed by the time the Panama canal is ready for business.

No Pan-American railroad, as such,
has been under construction, but stretches of railroad have been building, disconnected and sometimes far apart, which are now closing upon one another, and which may, within a very short time, become continuous links of a chain extending from Mexico to the plains of Patagonia. There appears to have been steady if slow progress in the one general direction since Blaine's time.

Without actual co-operation, or even a very clear understanding as to the ultimate end to be attained, the track laying has proceeded until the work accomplished surprises even those who have given the undertaking more than passing attention. It is now announced that the line extending southward through the Mexican state of Chihuahua has reached the Guadalupe river, and that as soon as a bridge is built across that river a connection will be made with the Guatemalan state lines.

This opens up the possibility that by the middle of the coming summer there may be all-rail communication between points in the United States and Guatemala City. The effect of this, of course, will be to accelerate the work of construction now in progress northward through Salvador and southward to Nicaragua. Other connections, enabling the traveler to reach points in Chile and Argentina, it is expected, will be made within the next few years.

This outlook opens up an entire new field of speculation with regard to the future of our South American relations. Thus far we have been discouraged in the competition for Latin American trade by foreign nations.
We have not been able to meet them on anything like equal terms on the water. But if communication to South America by land be thrown open to us there can hardly be more question with regard to our commercial conquest of the lower continent than there is with regard to our commercial leadership in the upper one.

COMPLEX SITUATION.

With the announcement of the candidacy of State Senator Edward T. Fairchild of Milwaukee for the gubernatorial honors, on the republican ticket, the situation becomes even more complex than ever. He makes the fifth aspirant for the republican honors and the only one thus far that is really opposed to the La Follette principles.

Mr. Fairchild is a man of sterling character, a good, honest, fearless worker for the cause he espouses and has made an enviable record as a member of the Wisconsin state senate.

His entrance into the political field, with aspirations for the governor's chair, is not really unexpected as he has been known to have been the choice of the younger element of the republican party that are opposed to La Follette, for some months past.

This gives Milwaukee two candidates for the office—McGovern, the avowed La Follette candidate, and Fairchild, of the conservative element.
Fairchild is also in the front with
W. M. Lewis, who favors county option, Lieutenant Governor Strange of New Hampshire, also a county optionist, and Senator W. H. Barker, on a strong county option platform. McGovern and Fairchild do not favor the proposed law so this makes the situation more complicated than ever and leaves the average political depositor at sea over the possible outcome.

Senator Fairchild meets all the requirements of the conservative republicans and doubtless will have their united support unless Governor Davidson again decides to become a candidate for re-nomination. Should this occur it is probable that his vote would be split to a large extent.
However of the men now in the field he is the only one who is clean of the La Follette taint, and who is backed by the younger element of republicans who would purely Wisconsin politics and get away from the old ring methods.

As usual, the Milwaukee Journal goes off half-cocked when it refers to the Gazette. Just where it secures its ideas is unknown. Many of them are not worth consideration, but just how it can make out that the Gazette likens La Follette to an offensive animal is beyond the ken of man.
The Gazette may differ with Senator
La Follette as to his methods and policies, and has for many years, but it has never really written anything worse about him than could be said by naming the Journal as his strongest supporter. That is damning enough for any individual.

Just where this attempt to repudiate Canon and the principles of the republican party will end is doubtful.
People are prone to take the statements of a few sensational writers who state what they see through colored glasses as facts, when the real facts are entirely different. The yellow press and the sensational magazine editors are responsible for the division that has come to the republican party and having finished with Canon they are now taking up Fairchild.
"Anything for sensation" is their motto.

Colonel Roosevelt's attitude with relation to his visit to the Pope is in no ways any sign of disrespect for "His Holiness." Conditions which surround the visit of a prominent personage, such as Roosevelt is, to the head of the great Catholic church, are often misunderstood by the average layman. There may have been an error on the part of the Pope's advisors, but it is certain that no one regrets the incident more than does Colonel Roosevelt.

This is election day and every citizen should exercise the right of franchise given him under the constitution by casting a ballot for or against the candidates whose names appear on the ballots and the questions at issue. It is the stay-at-home vote that gives to cities a bad civic government and causes all sorts of trouble for taxpayers and citizens interested in seeing their community come to the front.

Pittsburg has long been to the fore front with sensations of one sort or another. Harry Shaw and his enemies, divorcees of prominent citizens, and last, but not least, the graft discovered among the aldermen, has all given this city an unenviable position in the list of the great American cities. Now they are tired of it all and will reform.

Nothing will help Janesville more than the concerted action of the citizens in getting together and boosting and bounding the community they make their home. It is only going to be by good, hard work in which every citizen plays their part, that the city is going to forge to the front and take the place it should have in the southern portion of the state.

Briefly stated Premier Asquith's propositions for reforming the house of lords might have been stated thus:
"Resolved, That the house of lords be permitted to do whatever it may choose, provided, always, that it shall not choose to do anything that may in any way interfere with what the house of commons prefers to have done."

New York friends of Dr. Cook are said to be raising a fund to clear him of the charges brought against him.
One would hardly believe that there was that much money in the great city of Gotham when they were told it had actually been raised.

No suggestion has as yet been made that a fund be established to investigate the cause of spring fever which in some way must be affiliated with the famous "hook worm" of the southern climes.

England is talking of another general election soon. Really, it is too bad that the Britons have been stricken with this germ after all these years of quinine and peace.

The plug tobacco strikers in Louisville can not expect any financial aid from the plug tobacco chewers the country over.

PRESS COMMENT.

About Face.
Chicago should make monkeys of the gray wolves.—Rockford Star.
Turnabout is fair play.

Concerning Pittsburgians.
Pittsburg is growing radical. It demands honest weights and measures.
—Milwaukee Journal.
That is the unkindest cut of all,
when a city is radical when it attempts to be honest.

Not Technical.
New York certainly is getting technical.
A magistrate there refused to let a fair fight try on a corset in court.—Madison State Journal.
Modest, or stinky, perhaps, but not technical.

Flooded.
Don't think for a minute the G. O. P. is going to be put out of business.
Just consider the source such talk comes from.—Monroe Journal.
Then just consider the amount, if possible, that will flow when the insurgent bunch hits the chautauquin circuit.

Exceeding Dryness Too.
"April showers bring May flowers." The distinguished ex-president.—Fond du Lac Reporter.
Rather paradoxical, but they will also bring a two years' drought to many cities in Wisconsin.

Yes, if Voters.
Janesville boys struck a big number
out in California, says a news item.
Those boys could have done the same thing right here in Milwaukee by securing introductions to a few of our respected candidates.—Milwaukee Sentinel.
Even if they were not qualified to vote in Milwaukee?

Make It Broader!
Just because you didn't happen to be the victim of an April fool joke do not congratulate yourself at once.
There are still several days left in April.—Beloit News.
For some people, the same statement might apply for the entire three hundred and sixty-five.

Disheartening.
A delving professor has found "Man designed by nature to be bad" and if he'll deliver a little more hell that the original design hasn't been materially improved upon.—Racine News.

In vain, then, has been all the uplift work of the Chicago Tribune, Colliers and the other uplift magazines.
Confidently he and at least one little bit of good that they have done to encourage them in their self-appointed task.

Be Fair.
In the heat of the local option election
all citizens should bear in mind that we are all going to live here just the same after next Tuesday, no matter what the result, and hold their temper. Every citizen is entitled to his own opinion and the right to express it through his ballot.—Rock ford Register-Gazette.
This is the spirit that should be shown everywhere but unfortunately, it is alleged, local saloon-keepers have blackballed those who signed the dry petition, which to say the least, is a foolish move. It but intensifies the opposition.

Not Darius Green.
That boy wonder who says he can build an airplane that will travel to the planet Venus in twenty minutes, should govern himself by the example of the wise man in the old rhyme:
A wise man built him a flying machine;
"I'll cross the ocean," quoth he,
"I will."
"I'll cross the ocean," quoth he,
"I will."
But "I'll have to cross without me,
I vow."
—Milwaukee News.

That's the kind of spirit that the Wright brothers, Robert Fulton and a few more who really accomplished things, did not have.

A Happy Medium.
President Taft has thrown the weight of his influence in favor of the enactment by congress of legislation which will provide for publicity of campaign contributions. Wisconsin has such a law, and public condemnation of the last senatorial campaign is certain to have the effect of lessening campaign expenditures in this state hereafter.—Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

With publicity to discourage it and the primary to demand it, the campaign contribution seems to be between the upper and nether millstones.

Uncle Walt
THE POET PHILOSOPHER
By WALT MASON.
(Copyright, 1909, by George M. Shaw Adams.)

He toiled and sweated half his life to hang rich garments on his wife,
"I haven't time to
THE FOOLISH HUSBAND
cut a dash," he said, "but I will blow the cash to let those swell-up neighbors know that I have got the cash to blow." And so his good wife wore her furs, and drove parade cars always; she had her rooms from near and far, and glided like an auto-car; she had a new and wondrous gown for every "function" tion" in the town; her life rounded sunny, gay and glad, this wife who was her husband's ad. One night, his day of labor over, he found her weeping at the door, and when he asked her to explain, she stopped a while the briny rain, and cried, "This life my spirit feels! I'm tired of wearing flossy rags! I'm tired of chasing through the town, a dummy in a costly gown! I'd rather wear a burly sack, or leather flynet on my back—and have you with me as of yore—than all the sables in the store!

And if you really love your wife,
you get back to the simple life.
Don't try to gather all the dough that's minted in this world below;
just earn enough to pay the freight, and let us live in simple state, in some neat shanty far away from pump and fuss and vain display—remote from jewelry and furs!"

Motor Car

Fire Losses Show Need of Insurance

What may be taken as a reliable indication of the feasibility of automobile insurance is seen from the loss by fire early last week of 20 motor cars in one of the large garages in Minneapolis. This may have happened in any garage, but the fact remains that those who carried insurance on their cars now have reason to congratulate themselves on their good fortune.

We Urge Auto Owners To Take Precautionary Methods

TO AVOID POSSIBLE LOSS.

Our policies insure you against any loss or damage to your automobile by the originating from any cause. They cover any possible loss that could happen to the Body, Machinery or Equipment of your car.

The cost of the premium is very reasonable.

The conditions of our policies are very liberal and free from technicalities.

Suits and Skirts

Confirmation of Two-Piece Tailored Suits for Street Wear

Simplicity is the keynote of two-piece tailored suits. The most favored type at present has a semi-fitted jacket, in length from 28 to 32 inches. Semi-circular, as well as pleated skirts, are greatly in evidence. A feature of the best skirts is the narrow cut around the ankles. Navy blue serges are in the ascendant.

If there was any doubt in the minds of manufacturers or buyers as to the popularity of Tailored Suits, such doubt should certainly have been dispelled after viewing the Easter parade. They were without question the approved costume for street wear for all classes of women. At Atlantic City, for example, it can safely be stated that over 90 per cent of the women seen on the boardwalk wore two-piece tailored suits.

A notable feature of these suits was their simplicity. While a few novelties were seen in the vast number of women who paraded, they were so far in the minority that they attracted no attention.

Here you will find styles that are up to the minute with very special values in the line at $25.

Advertising As Help In General Economy

That a man who advertises his business properly is not only a distributor, but also helps the public generally to economize, was the statement made yesterday by Arthur Brisbane of New York in an address before the Chicago Advertising association.

This is certainly true in my case for I know that I have saved my patients in the aggregate many thousands of dollars compared to what their dental work would have cost them if they had gone elsewhere.

And then, also, thing of the pain I am daily saving people.

It pays in many ways to let me do your dental work.

HEAVY VOTE WAS POLLED IN CITY

LICENSE OR NO LICENSE QUESTIONS BRINGS OUT THE VOTERS.

BEATS PREVIOUS RECORDS

Material Gains in Every Ward Over the Vote of a Year Ago, Two Years Ago, and Even Three Years Ago.

Evidently it takes a question like license or no license to stir up the voters of Janesville and bring them out in full strength to the polls to vote on an election day. Fully taken all over the city at one time today showed that the vote today is uniformly higher than in the past three years at the spring elections.

Purpose for the city attorneyship also has been one of the features of the present campaign and has much to do with the getting out of the heavy vote and this afternoon several good sized wagers were laid on Maxwell to win. It is said that Burpee is being opposed by many leading democrats on account of differences that he has had with the party management in past campaigns.

It is true that some of the republican leaders are backing Burpee but it is said that the defection from the democratic ranks will not be offset by the republican gains and with the heavy vote in all the wards it is claimed by those watching the polling closely that Maxwell will poll a very heavy vote and be the winner.

In the second ward the fight between Buchholz and Baumann for the coveted seat in the council is also drawing out a heavy vote and it is a contest to be watched with interest. These two were opposed two years ago when Buchholz won, and since then Baumann is said to have strengthened himself materially.

The vote at one o'clock in the first ward was 290; in 1909 it was 253; in 1908 it was 224; in 1907 it was 195; in the second ward the vote at one today was 264; in 1909, 214; in 1908, 204; in 1907, 175. In the third ward the vote shortly after one was 262; in 1909, 273 at two; in 1908, 215; in 1907, 175. In the fourth ward at one the vote was 293; in 1909, 257; in 1908, 240; in 1907, 128. In the fifth ward at one today the vote was 159; in 1909, 134; in 1908, 62; in 1907, 69.

MUCH SPORT AT THE BIG MINSTREL SHOW

Benefit Performance Given at Opera House Last Evening for Band Was Highly Successful.

In industrial costume and with minstrel fun and timely jokes, "Janesville's singing 400," the members of the Imperial band and others, appeared last night at the opera house in the annual band benefit performance. The "stunts" put on by the minstrels were exceptionally good, the musical numbers fine, and one continual round of applause and laughter greeted the performers from the opening number to the final curtain fall. The audience attending the entertainment was large and the band will undoubtedly receive a neat little sum for their efforts in making the affair a success.

The program was divided into two parts, the first part consisting of vocal numbers, each singer doing his part splendidly. The entire company took part in the opening chorus. When Master of Ceremonies Louis Avery announced that John Baumann was to sing "Trane-lag-Sie-l-Cu-Ban-na-a-dy," the audience gasped, then applauded their program, and finally gave the singer a hearty applause.

"We'll All Go Home," as rendered by Ernest Strampe, was highly pleasing, and Arthur Schooff delighted all with "When the Daisies Bloom."

George Hatch's rendition of "Alexander Jones" scored a hit, and Len Matthews' baritone solo, "To the Land of the World With You," was greatly appreciated.

"Pat" (Walter) Carls was given an ovation before and after his song, "Some Day Melinda," and Harold Africa was deserving of the praise he received for his selection, "No Other Sweetheart But You."

The second part of the program began with selections by the Imperial orchestra. Prof. George Gray leading, and then that peerless comedian, Andrew J. Gibbons, held forth. His jokes and songs were very clever. Next came a series of selections by the entire band. Al Knoff leading.

When Harry McClure made his appearance, the audience smiled and before he left his jokes and quips and songs had increased the smile to laughter, and loud ones at that.

The closing number, and a fitting end to the series of side-splashing stunts that were pulled off, was the sketch, "A Georgia Minstrel," participated in by Walter Carls, George Hatch, Dr. G. B. Thuermer and S. H. Buchanan. It was a "scream" and brought down the house.

The members of the industrial company were as follows: Lewis Avery, master of ceremonies; "Bones," Geo. Hatch, J. Baumann, E. Strampe; Tambour, W. Carls, A. J. Gibbons, E. Buchanan; chirping confederacy, E. Baumann, R. Africa, H. Black, H. Smith, A. Schooff, L. Matthews, G. Ewer, W. Hough, E. Mead, E. Metcalf, J. Cullen, H. Jones, E. Leary, J. Thorne, G. Thuermer, and W. Branson.

JANVRIN RELEASED ON $10,000 BONDS PENDING HISTRIAL

Which Will Take Place in Circuit Court During October Term—Bail Temporarily Forfeited.

This morning, Frederick E. Janvrin, the Deloit politician who is charged with the murder of John Hayes, was permitted to waive preliminary examination in the Deloit municipal court at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, though District Attorney J. L. Fisher was anxious that such examination be held in order that he might introduce the testimony of certain witnesses who had not been heard at the inquest, and Judge Ross heard him over to the circuit court for trial. James McNeill and a constable brought him to Janesville in an automobile last evening and he spent the night in the county jail.

Mr. Janvrin and his attorneys, M. G. Jeffris, M. O. Mead, and John C. Road, appeared in circuit court this morning. District Attorney Fisher asked the judge to fix bail at $10,000. Judge Graham desired to know whether or not so large an amount could be furnished. Attorney Jeffris assured the court that it could, although he thought that $5,000 would be ample. In fixing the amount at $10,000 Judge Graham allowed it to be understood that he would be inclined to reduce the amount in case was experienced in securing the bonds. The matter was quickly disposed of when Alderman Janvrin, a brother of the accused, and R. J. Burdge each justified for property worth $20,000 and affixed their signatures to the bonds.

The information against Janvrin will be read at the opening of the May term of court but the trial will not take place until October. District Attorney Fisher urged that a jury be called for next month to take up the case but the attorneys for defense declared that they would not be ready at that time and Judge Graham, in view of the fact that a defendant's request of a continuance for at least one term, after being held for trial, is usually granted, decided that unless there were some urgent reason for taking up the case at once, it would go over to the October term. This being the situation with reference to the Janvrin case and there being no other important actions demanding immediate attention, the court has decided to eliminate the unnecessary expense to the county of a jury for the May term and none will be summoned. This will be welcome news to the farmers who will be too busy for jury duty at that time.

Judge Graham left for Jefferson this morning and will be back again tomorrow morning. The Green County term will be finished by the end of next week and the Johnson vs. Weber issue for the court will be tried here on April 18.

MAKES THREAT TO ABANDON ITS RAILS ON THE WEST SIDE

Interurban Railroad Co. Through Its Attorney, Defines Attitude Toward Fifty Damage Suits.

The arguments in the condemnation cases involving the land of W. H. H. Melton, Floyd D. Murdoch, and Adah H. Brunson, were concluded yesterday afternoon. The Commission, Henry Hall, Edwin Field, and Andrew Jensen, after a short conference, adjourned until tomorrow, the 6th instant.

In the course of his argument in favor of the Rockford & Interurban Railway Company, Mr. Nolan stated that when the railroad was built, everybody seemed pleased to have it enter the streets of Janesville. Soon after, however, action was begun against it by Messrs. Melton and Murdoch and Mrs. Brunson, who claimed to be damaged very seriously in their property and business. He maintained that they were not damaged. He stated further that if a large amount of damages were allowed to these people, it would be an encouragement to the forty-four other people, residing on Franklin and other streets, who have begun similar actions against the company. He gave notice that if this sort of encouragement were given by the Commission, the case would be appealed, the railway would be discontinued on the west side; the tracks used for a city railway, and the interurban transferred to the east side, where the people seemed to be more friendly. In that case, the litigants would only recover such damages as might be found they suffered up to the time the interurban discontinued. He characterized the litigation as an attempt on the part of the property owners interested to secure a little "easy money."

Messrs. Smith and Pierce argued in substance that the presence of the railway had damaged the property of Messrs. Melton and Murdoch and Mrs. Brunson to an amount approximating from 25 per cent to 33 1/3 per cent. According to the testimony of those interested, the Melton property would be worth $2,000; the Brunson property $3,500; and the Murdoch property $15,000. If the railway did not run in front of their premises, whereas, it was argued that under present conditions the property was worth one-third less.

FOOTBALL RULES COMMITTEE IN SESSION.

A. A. Stagg, University of Chicago, secretary. Dr. W. L. Dudley, Vanderbilt University. Crawford Blawden, Harvard. John C. Bell, Pennsylvania. Parke H. Davis, Princeton. Lieut. F. D. Bernan, U. S. M. academy. Theodore foot ball is to be the game of the future. Next fall they won't be asking for the score, but rather how near one team got to the other's goal. The changes in the rules of football as advocated by the "doctors" last Saturday will, if they go through at the next and final meeting, make the present college a very tame sort of an argument. Every change advocated is for the main purpose of weakening the offense.

It has been hard enough to score heretofore, but under the proposed changes, scoring will be well nigh impossible. The biggest joke of the whole affair is that advocated change of dividing the game into four periods of 15 minutes each. This is done for the purpose of relieving the players and sending them into the game again refreshed. This, if anything, simply makes it less imperative than ever for teams to use men in the best of condition. A player in fair physical shape can last 15 minutes, then with an interval of either five or ten minutes he can go back practically as fresh as when the game started. This is surely putting a premium on lack of training if ever anything ever was.

Then figure back and see how many important games have been won in the first 15 minutes of strenuous plugging back and forth across the field by two evenly matched teams before one has a chance to weaken and the other in better physical condition goes through to the "scoreless" end line.

Under the new rules it will be four good starts then the final whistle and no score.

The removal of the five yard restriction from the player to receive the ball from the center will prove of some help to the offense, but it will mean the return of plays close to center in which the whole back field of the offense will be brought into action and shot across the field of play something on the order of an old style tandem, although it will be started much more quickly. The flying tackle of the past can hardly be considered the dangerous play that the rule makers would like to make it appear.

The requirement of having seven men on the line of a scrimmage will make but little change. This style of play has been called dirty regularly. The provision prohibiting the pulling or pushing of the runner will be a factor for safety, especially in line plays. It will have a tendency to make the interference more constant also.

But the four period scheme is the joker. If it does go through and is tried next fall, there will be another change a year from now. That feature will be interesting to see what will happen to the forward pass. The salvation of the scoring end of the game depends largely upon this feature of play now. The restrictions will have to be taken off to a great extent to make it a play worth while under the proposed conditions.

A Plucky Woman

Story of a Press Gang
By EDGAR FALES MOODY

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

A hundred years ago there was a Connecticut farmer named John Clough living on the shores bordering on Long Island sound. His wife Katherine dearly loved her husband, and their union was blessed with ten children.

One evening when Katherine had prepared John's supper and was waiting for him to come home and eat it a small boy with eyes a-stare came running to the house crying:

"Missus Clough, your man's carried off!"

"What d'ye mean?" asked the frightened woman.

"Some men came along while he was a seedin' and took him by the arms and run him down to a boat. They put him in and are rowin' him out to a warship."

"Oh, my gracious, the press gang!" She ran out of the house and on to an audience in time to see the boat pulling for a ship at anchor bearing the British ensign from her peak.

John Clough had been pressed into the British service. Katherine was so fond of him that she could not bear the idea of waiting for him to come home after a long term of service and resolved to join him if possible. The ship remained at anchor that night, and the next morning, leaving her children in the care of her sister, Mrs. Clough cut off her hair, put on a suit of John's and, taking a boat, rowed out to the man-of-war. There she offered herself for enlistment. She was gladly accepted without a physical examination and donned a sailor's uniform. She was soon recognized by her husband, but she gave him a look of warning, and he did not betray her.

The Britisher sailed about for some time in American waters, her captain here and there impressing a man into his service, desiring to fill up his crew, which was incomplete.

As soon as possible John and Katherine concerted to make their escape. Katherine's plan was to assist John to get away, after which she might declare her sex and get discharged. But they both knew that so long as the ship remained on the American coast a very sharp watch would be kept on those Americans that had been impressed, so this task would not be easy of accomplishment. And if they made an attempt and failed one or both would be put in irons.

They kept a sharp watch for an opportunity, but so strict was the watch that none occurred. Finally preparations making for a voyage warned them that the ship would soon sail away and if they were to put any scheme into execution they must do so without further delay.

One day Katherine left the collar of her sailor jacket open just low enough to betray her sex. A petty officer was the first to discover the fact and reported it to the officer of the deck. Katherine was summoned before the commander and acknowledged her deception. The officer would have put her ashore at once, but she begged to be allowed to remain, for a time at least, as cook. Her request was granted, and she was transferred to the galley. But as there was not a woman's garment of any kind aboard she must needs retain her sailor top.

One evening when the ship was at anchor off New London John told his wife that he could swim ashore if he could only get away from the ship. But this was impossible, for marines were on watch, and any one jumping overboard would be shot. If he were not shot a boat would be lowered, and he would be captured before he had swum a hundred yards. The sailors had got wind of the intention of the captain to sail the next morning for England, and the Englishmen of the crew were much delighted at the prospect of going home.

Though the night was not dark, the Cloughs determined to make an attempt. About eight bells a great fire of light appeared in the galley, and Katherine, who had secretly collected as much inflammable stuff as she could conceal and had touched a burning brand to it, rushed the cry of "Fire!"

A fire on shipboard, especially on a wooden man-of-war, where there are a magazine and more or less ammunition always ready for use, is a danger needing paramount attention. All hands were called either to the galley or to the pumps, and all hands except John Clough obeyed. He was on the forecastle at the time watching the marines nearest him. The man was too good a soldier to leave his post, but was too much interested in the fire that night cost him his life to think of anything else. John Clough scuttled to the bowsprit, got down on to the chains, dropped noiselessly into the water and swam for the shore.

The fire in the galley was soon extinguished, and unfortunately as it at first appeared for Katherine there were evidences that she had been an incendiary. Had she been a man she would have probably been hanged to the yardarm. Even had the ship been in an English port she would have been turned over to the civil authorities. As it was she was considered a fit person to get rid of and was sent ashore.

Meanwhile John had landed safely without even having been shot at. The next evening the pair met at their farm, embraced, hugged their children and enjoyed a good supper.

MODISH WHITE COAT.

This is the type of long coat popular at Southern resorts this winter, made from white diagonal or light-weight cloth. For the younger girls collar and cuffs were of white silk, but for the older set they were made of black satin or bengaline, otherwise the garments was all white, the finishing effected with white pearl buttons. These coats are now shown for summer washwear and are wonderfully good looking.

GREATER ENDURANCE FROM NUTS THAN MEAT.

Meat contains every element of nutrition, but it contains, also, the waste of the animal's system from which it was taken, and which is poisonous to the human system. The elimination of this waste, including the elimination of the excess of uric acid which meat produces, is an appreciable drain upon the system. This has proved to be the chief cause of fatigue. In all the recent tests of endurance, non-flesh eaters have excelled flesh-eating competitors. This was notable in the great walking contest in Germany and England and in the experiments at Yale made under the direction of Prof. Fisher. Nuts contain a larger percentage of albumen than is necessary to support life, and if nuts are eaten in the natural state with a proper percentage of fruits, much better health and working capacity can be maintained than on a diet consisting largely of meat.

SENATOR CUMMINS WON OUT IN PLAN

DEFEATS EFFORTS TO HAVE EARLY VOTE ON RAILROAD BILL.

REGARDS ELKINS AS JOCLAR

Publicity Measure Is Reported to House—Campaign Will Be Taken Up in Two Weeks—Action on Rail Act Taken.

Washington, April 5.—Senator Cummins successfully resisted the combined efforts of Senators Elkins and Hale to obtain an agreement to vote next Saturday on the railroad bill. He declared a fortnight would be necessary to consider the amendments already offered.

Daen Would Object.
Senator Bacon made it evident that if no one else had objected he would do so. He contended that the managers of the bill were not justified in asking for an agreement looking to a vote until they are able to present a perfected bill.

Mr. Elkins brought up the question of a vote after the close of a speech by Senator Crawford advocating the amendment of the commerce court provision of the bill.

"I don't want to push senators," said Mr. Elkins, "but we all want to get away from here by the 15th of June. I therefore urge that senators desiring to speak on the bill or amendments will prepare themselves to do so and give us an opportunity to vote."

Regards Elkins as Jocular.
Mr. Cummins regarded Mr. Elkins as not only amiable and jocular. "There were more than a hundred amendments to be considered," he said, "and no less than a fortnight would be necessary for the duty alone. He suggested as a substitute an agreement that not less than three hours a day be devoted to the consideration of the bill and amendments until disposed of."

Mr. Cummins brought the discussion to an end by presenting an amendment striking out the provision authorizing the submission in advance of agreements to the court of commerce.

Publicity Bill Reported Out.
The McCall bill providing for the publication of campaign contributions and expenses was favorably reported to the house by Chairman Gaines of the committee on election of president and vice-president and members of congress. It will be taken up by the house two weeks from today.

Action was taken to insure prompt consideration of the railroad bill by the house. All the parliamentary privileges were allowed to that measure that pertain to appropriation bills.

THROWN UNDER TRAIN BY SPRAY
Two Youths Lose Lives While Stealing Rides in Indiana.

Coshion, Ind., April 5.—Blinded and smothered by heavy spray dashed up from the trough between the tracks of the Lake Shore railroad, as the locomotive of a passenger train took water running, two young men, who were riding on the "blind" end of the baggage car fell beneath the wheels and were killed. They were Walter Packard and August Walckleig of Elkhart, and were stealing a ride on a fast train as an adventure.

SENATOR CONGER RESIGNS POST.
Quits Because His Usefulness as Legislator Is at End.

Albany, N. Y., April 5.—Haling to a question of personal privilege in the senate, Senator Stein Conger, after reading a statement in which he declared he fully realized that as a result of the Albia bribery charge his usefulness as a legislator was at an end, handed his resignation to Lieutenant Governor White, a duplicate of which he later filed with the secretary of state.

Mr. Conger read how at a private conference, where the qualifications of former Senator Aldie for the position of Republican leader of the senate were being considered, he was asked to declare his position, and replied that he would not and could not vote for him.

"I told them," he continued, "in confidence what I, as a witness on the stand, have since then told you, namely, that I personally knew that in 1901, when Republican leader in the assembly, he had held up and demanded of the bridge companies and had received from them the sum of $1,000 to influence his official action, and that I did not propose by any act of mine to place him again in a position where he could levy blackmail on the business interests of this state."

Mr. Conger then reviewed the investigation.

WITHDRAW OFFER TO STRIKERS
Philadelphia Employers Say Old Car Men's Places Are Filled.

Philadelphia, April 5.—Following the refusal of the striking car men to accept the terms of settlement offered by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, the board of directors of the company practically withdrew their offer to take back all the men. A statement issued by the board declares that the men having refused to seek re-employment, the company proceeded to fill vacancies, and that so many men have been employed that it will now be impossible to take back into the service all of the old men or strike.

FIFTEEN GIRLS ARE HURT IN STAMPEDE

Leap from Windows to Ground When Steam Pipe Explodes.

Chicago, April 5.—Following the bursting of a steam pipe in the basement of the Central Steam Laundry company a panic among nearly 200 girl employees ensued and 15 were injured, more or less seriously, by leaping from windows and short fire escapes to the ground. Several others were considerably bruised.

The affair recalled in some particulars the holocaust in the store of the L. Fish Furniture Company, ten days ago. Within five minutes after the blast which shook the six-story building from roof to foundations, the metal ladders on the outside of the building were laden with frantic young women employees. Other girls clustered at the windows, screaming for help.

A few of those on the second floor jumped unhesitatingly and were picked up from the cement sidewalk, groaning with pain of injuries. Although there was no actual fire, an alarm was sent in, and the firemen did much in rescuing terror-stricken employees from dangerous positions on fire escapes.

The explosion is said to have been caused by a weak elbow in a six-inch pipe. A long hiss of steam, like the scream of a siren whistle, followed the blast and added to the fright of the nearly two hundred girls at work on the upper floor. Hot, white vapor quickly permeated the entire building, and swirled about the lower floors like fog. Some were burned by it.

MICHIGAN "DRYS" MAKE GAINS.
Voters by Ballot Abolish 272 Saloons and Six Breweries.

Detroit, Mich., April 5.—In the number of counties carried in the local option election the Anti-Saloon league scored another big victory, though in the number of saloons put out of business as compared with the number they tried to kill and failed, their showing is not quite as good. They abolished 272 saloons and six breweries.

After May 1 46 of the 83 counties in Michigan will be "dry," as against 29 at present. Altogether 36 counties voted on the liquor question. In 29 the "drys" won, in 16 the "wets" won.

In the counties carried by the "wets" are 875 saloons and nine breweries, but the majority of these are in Kent county, which went "wet" by nearly 8,000 majority. All but 500 of this majority was in the city of Grand Rapids. Mayor George E. Eliza was re-elected for the third time by 1,500 majority.

The "wets" gained two notable reversals in counties that have been "dry." They are Oakland and Wexford counties.

Shonts the presidency of the women's division in this national tribute to Abraham Lincoln, and she has accepted the office.

BOMB IS HURLED IN PITTSBURG CRAFT CASES

Foiled Findings May Be Invalidated Through Ineligibility of Grand Jury Foreman.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 5.—Attorney William J. Brown, representing several indicted coalminers, sprung a bombshell in the graft cases when he raised the point that Foreman Harold Newell, of the special grand jury, is not an established resident of Allegheny county, and consequently is not eligible to jury service. Should this point be held well taken it will invalidate all the findings made thus far by the grand jury.

Judge R. B. Finner has taken the papers in the case and will give a decision in a day or two.

Foreman Newell is president of the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., and was formerly bank examiner stationed at Pittsburgh.

Pending the announcement of Judge Finner's decision, the cases of former Councilmen O'Brien, Kearns, Hoerling and Moran are held over.

There were many interesting confessions before the court. Former Councilman Leader P. B. Kearns came before the bar and admitted that he had not only taken money for his own vote and had distributed money among other voters, but unsolicited he pleaded guilty to not having paid out all the money given him for distribution among other councilmen.

District Attorney W. A. Bakely, who is in New York, is known to be trying to arrange to have a "higher up" tried in New York in case he cannot be brought to Pittsburgh. This is the man who is said to have paid the $15,000 to Councilman Shaw at the Imperial hotel.

VICE-PRESIDENT BROOKS TALKS

WESTERN UNION MANAGER DEFENDS COMPANY IN BUCKET-SHOP CASES.

ONUS PUT ON WIRE CONCERN

Charged That New York Stock Quotations Are Furnished to Tabooed Brokers Through Medium of Telegraph Corporation's Lines.

New York, April 5.—A rigid inquiry is being conducted as to the status of the Western Union Telegraph company through the medium of which the bucket shops in this city, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington receive the New York stock exchange quotations.

It is claimed that each of the three concerns, members of which are under indictment, paid to the Western Union Telegraph Company $100,000 for telegraph tolls, leased wires, etc. Puta Onus on Telegraph Company. "If it were not for the Western Union Telegraph Company and a bucketshop in the country could last ten minutes," said one of the men who has been conducting the investigation of bucketshops.

Officials of the Western Union, however, claim that stock quotations are only sent to customers approved by the stock exchange. Cotton and grain quotations are also sent only to customers who are approved by the New York Cotton Stock and the Chicago Board of Trade.

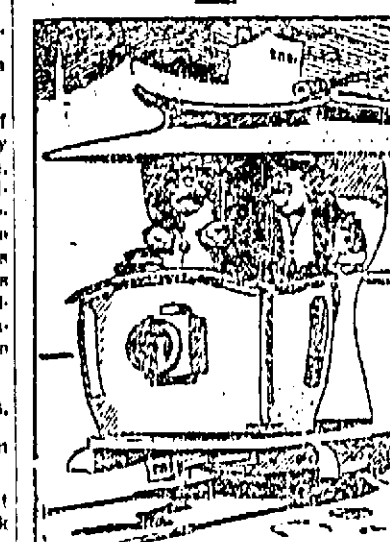

Brooks in Defense.
Vice-President Helvidere Brooks of the Western Union issued a statement, saying in part:

"Telegraph companies are required to render service to the public without discrimination and must accept all messages couched in decent language when offered at a telegraph office for transmission."

"Whenever the attention of the telegraph company has been called to an illegal use of the wire, or has been notified that the intended use of a wire was illegal or wrongful, it has refused the further use of the wire, or to furnish a wire, as is evidenced by the numerous cases in the courts instituted by parties seeking the use of a wire."

Twenty-seven Brokers Arrested.
Of the 29 men indicted in Washington for alleged connection with bucketshops, virtually 27 have been rounded up. Edward S. Boggs surrendered to United States Commissioner Shields and was held in $5,000 bail for examination.

THEATRE

When the Jansville Elks took a musical production to appear under the auspices of their order they picked out the best that can be obtained in the country. They now have another fine offering for the citizens of Jansville and it is news to print that the farce with music, "They Loved a Lassie," which was a season's success at the Whitney Opera House, Chicago, for the past four months, is booked for next Friday under their auspices.

R. C. Whitney has brought forward a good many musical successes at his popular Chicago Theatre, but this latest production, with winsome Scotch home, has found a larger measure of favor than any of the others.

which is a short way of saying that it is a success.

The play was written by Geo. Arthur, a prominent English actor, and is a rollicking run of laughing incidents and delightful specialties from catch to curtain. And he it said, to the eternal honor of the author and producer, none of the entertainment depends on vulgar suggestion. Once mother, sister and sweetheart may get as much roaring enjoyment out of the play as a business or club set.

Charles E. Evans, our old friend of "Farmer Match" fame, is at the head of the company. Fanny Alice York, the prima donna of so many Whitney successes and Forest Huff, Scotch home, has found a larger measure of favor than any of the others.

Other members of the cast, which will be exactly the same as seen in Chicago, are Helena Phillips, Amy Hamilton, Geo. Potthoff, Louise Skillman, Fanny Raymond, Eugene Hamilton, and Joseph Merrick. The company numbers fifty.

Gus Schille, who directs all of the Whitney productions will be in personal charge of the performance here. The chorus girls have been honored with remarkable praise for personal beauty and grace and singing voices. The Banishon chorus number and "Goodbye People" girls song have set a pace for the makers of popular features and times in musical shows. The seat sale opened this morning at the People's Drug Company.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, April 5, 1870.—Jottings.—One of Janesville's largest audiences gathered at Lap-plin's Hall, last evening to listen to the Oratorio of Esther, the Beautiful Queen, and the applause with which each successive act was greeted, told plainly that you can express the pleasure with which it was received. The entire company was arrayed in beautifully appropriate costumes, while that of the principal actors was gorgeous and magnificent, in the extreme. Royal purple and ermine, scarlet, green and gold, was dazzlingly blended upon the king's household, and the airy lightness of the Persian's apparel contrasted strikingly with the mourning garb of the oppressed Jews. The accompanying music was fine, almost speaking the words of the singers, and each and every part was admirably sustained. Truly this Oratorio is one of those things which never grow old, or which when grown old, still retain their freshness.

Confirguration.—At about 2 o'clock this morning there was a vigorous alarm of fire caused by the burning of three wooden buildings on the corner of West Milwaukee and Franklin streets, owned by Dr. Jno. Mitchell. The corner store was occupied by Inman & Merry, a grocery, the next one was vacant, the third one was occupied by J. Demmler, as a bakery, the next by Alex. Russell, who moved in last night, and the one still further west by Arthur Kegan as a saloon. Over the corner store was the photographic room of Henry Glass. Two of the buildings were almost wholly consumed, while the third was barely damaged. There was an insurance of $3,000 on the structures, carried by Halley & Dearborn; Inman and Merry had $2,000 on their stock in the office of Dimock & Hart; Demmler had $2,000 with Halley and Dearborn; Kegan and Henry Glass were both insured, the latter for $500 and the former for $800. The stocks of all were removed to a greater or less extent, so that the loss will only be partial on the risks. For a long time the fire seemed to defy all efforts of the fire department to subdue them.

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of illness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact that it is the only remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is, therefore, all-important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to purchase and note that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

It is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and assists in overcoming habitual constipation permanently, also biliousness and the many ills resulting therefrom. The great trouble with all other purgatives and aperients is not that they fail to act when a single dose is taken, but that they act too violently and invariably tend to produce a habit of body requiring constantly augmented doses. Children enjoy the pleasant taste and gentle action of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the ladies find it delightful and beneficial whenever a laxative remedy is needed, and business men pronounce it invaluable, as it may be taken without interfering with business and does not gripe nor nauseate. When buying note the name, California Fig Syrup Co. printed on the front of every package. Price, 50 cents a bottle.
